Dress to Impress:

The Secrets of Proper Attire

Learn the Employer's Dress Style

Looking the part can help you make a good first impression. Knowing what is expected takes a little research, a shopping trip, and a full-length mirror.

- Research the culture of the employer. A more conservative employer (accounting, finance, law, etc.) will require more conservative dress. A more creative employer (retail, advertising, etc.) might offer more flexibility in dress.
- Look at the brochures, website, and employees of the organization to guide your dress. What style of clothes are being worn by the people who work there? What image are they projecting with their clothing?
- Trust your instincts when selecting your interview attire.
 If you have to ask "Can I wear this?," then the answer should always be "No."
- Err on the conservative side when in doubt about what to wear.
- Avoid extremes. Low-cut blouses, sky-high stilettos, and miniskirts are inappropriate.
- Ask experts at a clothing store about the fit of your suit. It shouldn't be too loose or too tight.
- Purchase a quality suit. It is better to buy one good suit than several inexpensive suits.
- Always try on your entire outfit prior to the interview day, looking for any flaws or weaknesses in your appearance. Don't forget to look at the back of your outfit to ensure you have a polished look coming and going.
- Keep perfume/cologne at a minimum.

The Importance of Proper Attire

Making the BEST possible impression is paramount when seeking employment! Even though we would like to think that our skills and abilities get us the job, appearance does count. First impressions are made within five minutes of meeting someone, and help shape all future impressions, so it is important to dress professionally. This allows the employer to focus on your skills and abilities and not your clothing.

The National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) surveyed 457 employers who recruit new college graduates and an overwhelming 94 percent believe a candidate's overall appearance influences their opinion about that candidate!

When meeting potential employers, dress appropriately. It can be helpful to remember to always dress for the job you want!

Business Attire

Business attire is the written (or unwritten) dress code of an organization. Business attire suggests formal, conservative dress style. It is expected when interviewing with an employer, unless stated otherwise. Attention to detail, impeccable grooming, and a well-fitting suit are vital to make a lasting good impression!

Business Casual Attire

Acceptable Attire: Business Casual

MEN'S

- A sports coat creates a pulled together look in a business casual environment and eliminates the need for a tie. Pair the sports coat with khakis or dark slacks.
- Traditional dress slacks
 (khakis, Dockers, corduroys, wool, and linen) are appropriate with or without a blazer. Be sure to press them beforehand.
- Casual, button-down oxford shirts are a great alternative to dress shirts, with or without a tie. Choose basic white, chambray, or pinstripe.
- Oxfords and loafers in brown or black are a good match for khakis and corduroys.

WOMEN'S

- Pantsuits are a wise choice for a business casual event (e.g. information session, facility tour).
- A classic sheath paired with a cardigan or a blazer in the same fabric and color is a good choice.
- Crisp cotton shirts in white, chambray, and chartreuse paired with dress pants, khakis, or skirts make a casual outfit.
- Cardigan twin sets also are an easy way to dress more casually while still looking professional.
- Jewelry, scarves, and other accessories will add polish to any outfit, but keep in mind that less is more!
- Shoes should still be well-made and close-toed.
 Flats are appropriate.
- Wear trouser socks with pants.

for the last decade. Dressing more casually is meant to make life easier, but confusion over appropriate attire has caused many employers to adopt some type of business casual standard. Whether it is casual Fridays, shirts with the organization's logo, or a guide for acceptable dress, the casual dress code is becoming more defined. Candidates seeking employment with an organization may be instructed to wear "business casual" to a particular event during the interview process without receiving any guidelines to follow.

Business casual is an oxymoron! Dress code policies have been changing

MEN'S Interview Attire

- · Choose a neutral suit in charcoal, navy, or gray. Black suits, while still in style and acceptable, are less appropriate for an interview.
- The pant leg should touch the front of the shoe and fall just above the heel in the back.
- · Pants can be cuffed or uncuffed.
- The fabric of the suit should be gabardine or wool. Blended material is acceptable, but avoid cotton blends as they wrinkle.
- The suit jacket should be buttoned while standing and unbuttoned to sit. Do not button the bottom button of a two- or three-button suit.
- · Avoid suits with doublebreasted jackets.

Socks, Shoes & Belt:

- Wing tips or lace up conservative shoes are most appropriate. Loafers should be used for business casual.
- · Choose black, brown, or cordovan shoes. Shoe color should match your suit or be slightly darker.
- · Shoes should be in good condition and polished.
- · Socks should match the color of your suit and cover your calves.
- · Belts should be in good condition and match the color of your shoes.

The Dress Shirt:

- Choose shirts in white, ecru. or light blue.
- Have your shirt professionally laundered.
- Always wear a long sleeve shirt.
- Pointed collars give a more professional image than button down collars, yet both are acceptable.
- · Avoid shirts with insignias.
- · Your shirt sleeves should extend beyond jacket sleeves by ½ inch.
- · Always wear a crew-neck undershirt as they give the appearance of a finished look.

The Tie:

- Wear a conservative tie with subtle patterns or solid colors.
- Ties should be of good quality and made of 100% silk.
- The tie should be darker than your shirt.
- The tie should fall to the middle of your belt.

Grooming:

- Facial hair should be neatly trimmed (moustache, sideburns); beards are not recommended for an interview.
- · Hair should be neat and conservative, not touching the collar of your shirt.
- Heavy cologne should be avoided. Soap and antiperspirant will allow the interviewer to remember you, not your scent.
- Nails should be clean and manicured.

Accessories:

- · Men should limit accessories/jewelry to three pieces.
- Accessories include watch, ring, handkerchief, lapel pins, cuff links, and tie tacks. A dress watch should be worn—avoid athletic styles.
- · Avoid bracelets, necklaces, and visible piercings.

WOMEN'S Interview Attire

The Suit:

- Choose a classic suit, avoiding trendy styles.
- For a conservative organization, a skirt suit is still considered the most appropriate interview attire. A pantsuit, while acceptable for some organizations, is still considered less formal.
- Hemlines should be knee length or longer. Mini-skirts are inappropriate and give the impression that you are not serious about the interview.
- Choose wool, gabardine, or rayon.
- You are not limited to a darkcolored suit, but remember the rule— if you have to ask yourself "Can I?," then don't.
- Make sure the suit flatters your figure and fits well, not too tight or loose.
- Jacket sleeves should fall ½ inch below your wrist.

Shoes & Hose:

- Wear pumps or sling backs. Avoid sandals or shoes with open toes or ankle straps.
- · Shoes should be of good quality.
- Shoe color should match your suit or be slightly darker.
- Heels should be 1-2 inches; higher heels should be saved for after hours.

The Blouse:

- Blouses should be current, but neither low-cut nor revealing.
- Do not wear a camisole or sheer blouse.

Accessories:

- Jewelry should be minimal and conservative. Remove all facial piercing except earrings.
- Wear only five accessories.
 Earrings count as two and a watch is the third, allowing two additional accessories.
 Do not over-accessorize!

- Make-up should be natural and conservative. Avoid overly dark or bright eyeshadow and lipstick.
- Nails should be clean and manicured. Avoid very long nails, nail art, and trendy or bright nail polish.
- · Hair should be clean and neat.
- Perfume should be applied very lightly, if at all. A good soap and antiperspirant will allow the interviewer to remember you, not your scent.

MEN & WOMEN:

Regardless of the occasion, dressing appropriately is one of the easiest ways to impress potential employers!

It may not guarantee you a job, but it could prevent your elimination from the candidate pool.

Unacceptable Attire

- · Jeans, denim pants, or shorts
- Leggings, stretch or stirrup pants, sweats, spandex, or other form-fitting/revealing attire
- Athletic shoes, hiking boots, sandals or flip flops
- Flannel shirts, t-shirts, or low-cut blouses
